Philip Teo is the Founder and CEO of Traderwave Pte Ltd, a financial technology company that offers a financial market technical analysis web application to global retail and professional traders, to help them shortlist, analyze and monitor their trade ideas from any computer that has internet access.

Prior to his entrepreneurship endeavor, Philip served as the Chief Technical Analyst for OCBC Investment Research for 7 years, during which he offered his technical advisory services on global stocks, indices, forex and commodities to OCBC trading representatives, as well as their retail, premium and private clients.

Philip first became interested in the stock market during his undergraduate days and had ironically, started off as an avid student of the value investing methodology of the stock market.

It was also with this enlightenment that Philip made the decision to depart his comfortable role as the Chief Technical Analyst of OCBC Investment Research, to start Traderwave Pte Ltd. He hopes that Traderwave can become the platform to provide retail traders with both the knowledge and tools to become more proficient and profitable in their trading journey.
